Worksurfaces

Distinctive, in-demand Collections

After what has been a challenging period for our industry as a whole, we're proud to say that our Worksurface division has continued to thrive, and the coming year is set to be no different.

With significant investment across our manufacturing facilities, December through to early 2023 has seen the beginning of our exciting factory development project, creating a new cutting and polishing automated cell to run alongside our existing plant equipment, as well as utilising KUKA robots to increase cutting, storage and polishing capacity. This substantial project will support the increase of overall production, offering a greater capacity for you, our valued customer.

Investment has also been made to develop a number of introductions to our already extensive product offering, with 3 new quartz families (6 colours), and a new granite material.

This year we have focused on expanding our white veined materials to meet the demand for timeless surfaces that work effortlessly across both classic and contemporary settings. Corchia, Arabiето and Super White Eclipse all embody a mottled, luxurious finish that will work perfectly as a focal point in any kitchen.

New Fabrication Processes

We have also introduced a new classic upstand accessory with 3 profile options, ribbed & scalloped feature downstands for sinks, waterfall end panels and breakfast bar cladding, and a new floating shelf offering for solid walls. With so much development in our Worksurface sector, we are looking forward to another year focused on bringing you the finest materials from around the world with efficiency and the highest quality.

Texture options - Ribbed and Scalloped

To reflect the growing demand for texture in the kitchen, we've introduced both a Ribbed and Scalloped surface detail which are available in a number of feature downstand applications.

Classic Upstand

A simple, timeless addition to our upstand offering, the classic upstand elevates any kitchen aesthetic with ornate detailing. Available in three style options.

The Broadest Furniture Handle Collection in the UK

With 139 new handles, we have expanded and enhanced our handle collection to capture the latest on-trend looks. We have introduced 19 new families, including the Alchester, Hemley and Arden handle families which are full of character and feature an intricate, fluted texture design which complements contemporary and classic room settings.

Our new and exciting Colour Collection has been developed in conjunction with our exclusive European manufacturing partners; colour-matched to five of our new and best-selling door finishes of White, Dove Grey, Taupe Grey, Hartforth Blue and Regiment, this modern family offers a truly unique look.

Alongside these new families, we have also developed our suite of timber handles by introducing new textures, styles and finishes which continue the trend of welcoming the outside world indoors. We have also re-imagined our Pewter Collection, combining classic Pewter material with modern PVD elements to modernise a previously traditional finish.
